

WOMEN WHO HOLD EXECUTIVE JOBS WITH UNCLE SAM

PHOTOS BY HARRIS-LEWIS

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, one of the three civil service commissioners.

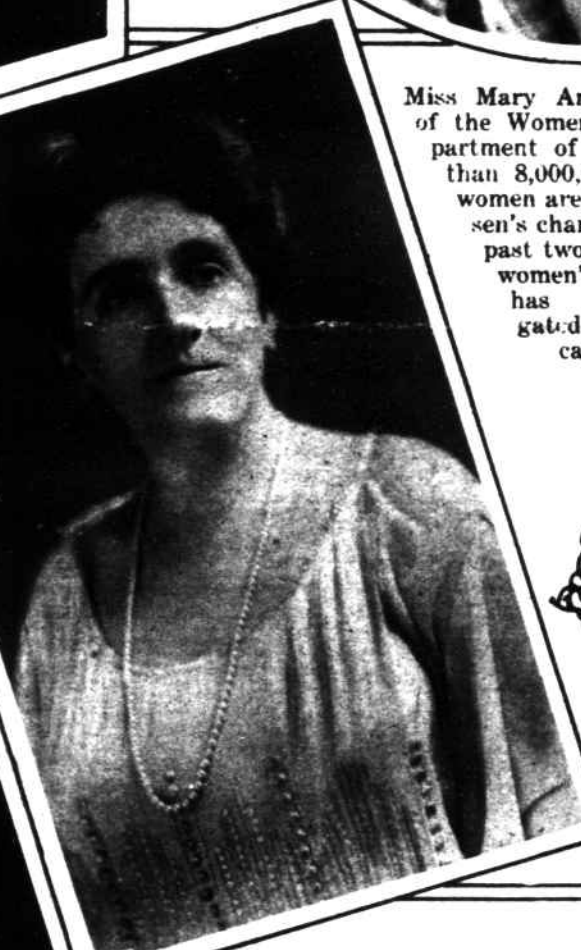

Miss Mary Anderson, director of the Women's Bureau, Department of Labor. More than 8,000,000 employed women are Miss Anderson's charges. In the past two years the women's bureau has investigated 82,000 cases.

Mrs. Katherine M. Cook, specialist in rural schools in the Interior Department's Bureau of Education. She has charge of investigation and research work involving rural school problems.

Miss Florence E. Ward has charge, for the Department of Agriculture, of co-operating with the various State agricultural colleges in the development of projects in agriculture and home economics in the ten Eastern States, including New England.

Dr. Valeria H. Parker, M. D., executive secretary of the U. S. Interdepartmental Social Hygiene Board. Her work is to direct the clean-up of vice districts near army and navy stations.

Major Julia C. Stimson, head of the army nursing corps. This lady major won her rank in war service. She was the director of 10,000 army nurses in the A. E. F.

Mrs. Lenah S. Higbee, superintendent of the navy nursing service. She directs the work of 500 navy nurses at naval hospitals and dispensaries on shore and on hospital ships.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, one of the six assistant attorneys general. She is charged with enforcing all Federal taxation statutes, other than customs, in eighty-three Federal districts. The prohibition act and traffic in liquor, the insurance act taking in the war risk insurance, Federal employees' compensation and pension matters, the pure food and meat inspection acts and the administration of prisons also come under her jurisdiction.